VOLUME XXV

MAY 1935

FOREWORD

EACH year for the past twenty-four years, the students of the Greenville High School have published a volume of "The Chief". This year is the Silver Anniversary of the book, and it is our desire to make the twenty-fifth "Chief" worthy of its predecessors.

We have endeavored in this book to show to you the changes and progress in our school since the publication of the first "Chief". With this as our aim, we present to you "The Chief" of 1935.

The Editors.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

THE forming of numerous honorary societies throughout our country showed a need for an organization emphasizing the objectives of the secondary schools.

If a student feels honored to wear awards of local organizations, how must one feel to be the wearer of a pin which is recognized from Maine to the Philippine Islands. For these reasons, the National Honor Society was formed in 1921. Since then, charters have been granted to over eight hundred secondary schools, and between twenty-five and thirty thousand boys and girls are wearing the pins and keys of this nation-wide society.

It is difficult to enumerate all the objectives set up by the society, but the constitution states: "The purpose of this organization shall be to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character in students of American secondary schools."

"Pupils eligible to membership must have a scholarship rank in the first third of their respective classes. Of the senior class, only fifteen per cent are eligible; of the junior class five per cent are eligible."

"Service is interpreted as: (a) Willingness to render cheerfully and enthusiastically any service to the school whenever called upon; (b) Desire to perform thoroughly any assigned service to the school, or through the school to the community."

"Leadership is interpreted to mean: (a) Demonstrating a degree of initiative in class-room activities which leads to higher scholarship for all; (b) Showing initiative in promoting any high school activity; (c) Successfully holding any high school office, committee chairmanship, or other positions of responsibility; (d) Exerting a type of leadership which actively and wholesomely influences toward a fine leadership."

"A Student may gain recognition in character: (a) By meeting his individual obligations to the school promptly and completely; (b) By demonstrating an honest spirit in his class work, and a spirit of cordiality and sincerity toward his teachers and student associates; (c) By upholding the ideals of the Christian organization of the school; (d) By constantly demonstrating such qualities of personality, honesty, reliability, promptness, achievement, and morality as are indispensable to the finest young manhood and womanhood."

All selections of membership to this society are made by a faculty council appointed by the principal.

There are two emblems belonging to this society. One is a large plaque with an arm of youth upholding a torch upon a bronze background. The other emblem is a key worn by the individual members. Surely anyone wearing such a pin can be proud of it and of the organization behind it.

In schools where the National Honor Society has been organized, it is the underlying motive of all student endeavor. Election to the National Honor Society is the award for a high school life well lived. In years to come this society will become the backbone of Greenville High School. For these reasons, many pupils will strive to meet its requirements: character, service, leadership, and scholarship.

The football team this year had a fairly good season. When the season opened Coach Stoltz had but three letter men back from the team last year, and all of these men were backfield men. From about forty candidates Coach Stoltz picked a good but light line. The line was one of the lightest in the Miami Valley League, but the team showed great spirit and sportsmanship throughout the season, and through determination won a majority of the games.

The basketball team enjoyed a very good season. At Coach Stoltz's first call for the basketball team about fifty candidates tried out for the team. There were but two letter men back from last year's team. The team tied for third place in the Miami Valley League. The team showed fine sportsmanship and spirit throughout the season. Through grim determination and willingness to co-operate our boys came to the front this year.

HISTORY

CHEF

25 YEARS ON PARADE

UNTIL 1910 no complete record was kept of the happenings in Greenville High School, but in this year the first annual, with Miss Bier as sponsor and Harold Teegarden as the first editor-in-chief, was presented to the student body and the townspeople. It is the purpose of this section to bring you an abbreviated review of interesting events recorded in this annual and the books following it.

Naturally the most important event to review is the growth of schools in the city of Greenville. By recording the increased interest in education, we take this opportunity to pay tribute to the forerunners in the educational fields.

HISTORY OF BUILDINGS

The first schoolhouse in the village of Greenville was a log structure erected about 1827 on the present site of the St. Mary's Church. A dissention arose among the school board members so that the next year the building was torn down and the logs moved to West Fourth Street near the present site of the M. E. Parsonage. (The land was deeded to the school board as payment for a fine in an assault case.) About the same time another brick schoolhouse was erected on the east side of Walnut Street between Third and Fourth Streets. Apparently two buildings were not needed at the time.

Up to 1850 no attempt had been made to grade schools so the next year the Board employed at a salary of $400.00 Ebenezer Bishop to grade the Greenville Schools. The result was only a partial success, but due to the untiring efforts of Superintendent Mays, four grades were organized.

During the prosperous period following the Civil War, agitation was renewed for a new school building and the organization of a high school. Accordingly, a three story brick building was erected on the present site of Memorial Hall in 1867 and the high school organized the following year.

According to Frazer E. Wilson, this marks the beginning of the modern era of education in Greenville. In 1870 three teachers took care of all the high school work. The Board of Education called Mr. J. T. Martz to assume the superintendency in 1871. He accepted the position which he held until 1888. Under his beneficial leadership the school grew steadily in efficiency and enrollment. New branches of study were introduced and a great deal of new equipment was added thus benefiting both students and teachers.

During Mr. Martz's superintendency, the building now known as the East School was built. This served as the High School Building from 1884 until 1904. The West Building was remodeled and the High School was moved back to remain there until the completion of the new High School Building in 1924.

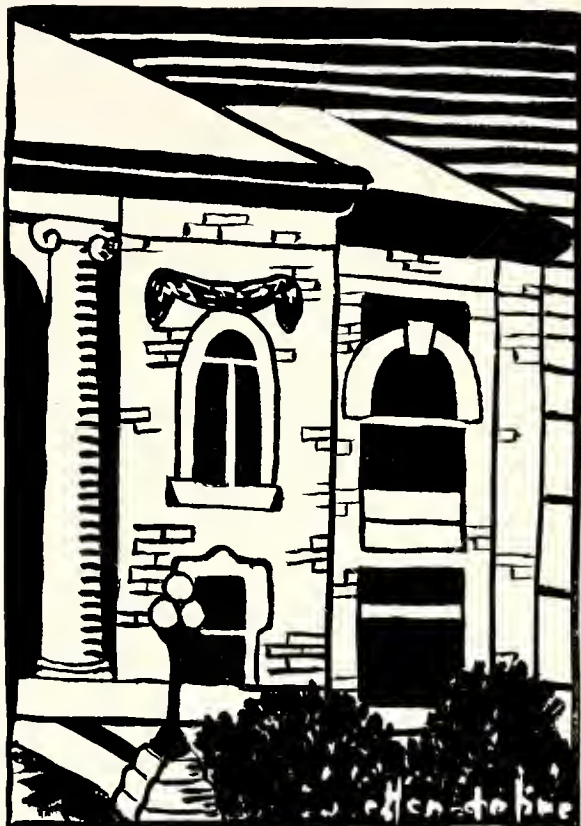

Under the pressure of increasing enrollments, further accommodations were felt to be necessary, so plans were laid for a new grade building in the northern part of town. Thus the fine North School Building was erected in 1899, mainly through the efforts of Mr. D. L. Gaskill, who at that time was a member of the Board of Education. Mr. Gaskill rendered Greenville another great service about this time, by making possible the Carnegie Library. The South School Building was erected in 1911. In 1912 our beautiful Memorial Hall was made possible by the generosity of the late Henry and Ella St. Clair and was dedicated in that year.

The first decade of the 20th century marked a great development in our schools other than that of buildings. In 1903-1905 the seventh and eighth grades were re-organized on the departmental plan. Courses in Manual Training and Domestic Art were introduced and instrumental music became an added feature of the High School work. Commercial courses were also adopted. The High School was given a first class rating among the High Schools of the State.

In the fall of 1924, there was opened to the students of Greenville and vicinity, our new High School Building. This building contains 24 class rooms, 2 large assembly rooms, 4 science laboratories, a cafeteria and gymnasium. It is fully equipped with all necessary aids for both teachers and students. This building, together with the Memorial Hall and the Library, leave little to be desired in the way of educational facilities and is the pride of all citizens of Greenville.

In the last 25 years much progress has been made in the courses of study in Greenville High School. From the days of the old West Building with but three high school teachers who taught trigonometry, astronomy, and meteorology to the present day faculty of 30 teachers who have added music, art, home economics, manual arts, public speaking, democracy, three foreign languages, science, and history to the usual reading, writing and arithmetic. Our faculty is composed of a highly competent group of men and women, all of whom were educated in leading universities throughout the country.

Bailey has occupied this position since 1930, with Mr. Warner as the leader of the high school. Mr. Bailey and Mr. Warner are now the leaders during the publication of the Silver Anniversary "Chief." We hope that they will continue to be superintendent and principal during the publication of many more "Chiefs."

DRAMATIC REVIEW—OPERETTAS

As the faculty have been so broad minded to realize the importance of social life in high school, there are presented each year the Annual Play and Booster Day, presented to make money for the annual; the Junior Play, for the benefit of the Junior-Senior Prom; the operettas to secure funds for the music department; and the Senior Play for expenses of graduation.

The first operetta ever presented in G. H. S. was given by the Girls' Glee Club in 1923. This operetta, "The Ghosts of Hilo," was given under the direction of Professor N. D. Messinger, along with a concert by the Boys' Glee Club.

In 1924 the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs presented a light opera, "Love Pirates of Hawaii." Professor Messinger directed this operetta also.

The next year, the Dramatic Music Club gave another light opera entitled "The Toreadors." The orchestra, under Professor Messinger, assisted in the production of this operetta.

For seven years no more operettas were put on, but in 1932 Mr. Brown and Miss Hill, with the assistance of the music department, gave the successful operetta, "Lelawala." After this operetta they decided to give one every year.

Great credit is due to the superintendents, principals, and schoolboards who have directed the policies of school work since 1850, when Mr. May, the first superintendent, took charge. In 1871, Mr. J. T. Martz took charge of the high school. The superintendent when the first "Chief" was published was Mr. J. J. Martz. After serving as head of all the schools in Greenville for 3 years, Mr. Martz resigned to be succeeded by Fred Clair Kirkendall. On the resignation of Mr. Kirkendall, the principal during his administration, Minor McCool, was elevated to the post of superintendent. Minor McCool held this position longer than preceding or succeeding superintendents. It was during Mr. McCool's reign that the new high school building was constructed at the approximate cost of $300,000.00. This money was raised by means of bonds after the old West School Building was found to be a fire hazard. In 1926, Mr. C. A. Waltz succeeded Mr. McCool. Mr. Waltz might be called the "Father of Social Life" in Greenville High School. He believed in encouraging the interests of the students by the formation of clubs. After four years at the helm, he was replaced by C. L. Bailey. Mr.

In 1933 the operetta "The Sunbonnet Girl," an easy but entertaining show, was given by the music department, Mr. Brown, and Miss Hill.

"Ask the Professor" was the musical show of 1934. This story of life on the campus was also a success.

This year the music department gave as its annual operetta "The Golden Trail," with the donkey as a member of the cast. This operetta made an impression on the audience. It is the hope of the music department that the following operettas will be enjoyed as have the preceding ones.

The first Class Play Society of G. H. S. was originated by Miss Bier twenty-five years ago. The first plays were of a more serious nature, being taken from the works of Shakespeare. 1911 marks the beginning of the class plays. That production was "Twelfth Night." Since that was a success, the next year Miss Bier presented another of Shakespeare's dramas, "As You Like It." The Class of 1913 was proud of their presentation of "Pygmalion and Galotia."

There is no record of class plays from the year 1914 to 1920; so after a rest of seven years, the plays were again produced. During this time people's interests were changed from Shakespeare's plays to comedies.

In 1921, when the class plays were once more resumed, a hilarious comedy entitled "Miss Somebody Else" was presented. Since this comedy was such a success, the class of 1922 presented another comedy, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary." The year of 1923 found the annual class play booked as "Clarence." Everyone declared that "Clarence" was the best class play ever to be presented in Greenville, but the class of '24 gave them "a run for their money" by presenting the successful "Nothing but the Truth."

Then for some unknown reason the classes of 1925 and 1926 left no records of the production of any class plays.

In 1927 the seniors upheld the motto "a bigger and better production" by presenting the play "The Charm School." The following year, not to be outdone by the previous classes, this class presented an equally entertaining comedy "The Goose Hangs High." The graduates of 1929, being very helpful souls, gave the audience some real advice by presenting the play "Come out of the Kitchen."

There are no records of class plays given in the years 1930 and 1931, but in 1932 an excellent religious play entitled "The Rock" was presented. That class of '33 certainly had acting talent, or so we gathered from the play "White Collars" which they presented.

In 1934, people were pleased with the presentation of a play, "Seventh Heaven," also well known in the motion picture circles.

And now the silver anniversary class wishes to express their pleasure in presenting another reproduction of a "movie," "Little Women."

MUSIC REVIEW

Although the music department has reached the point of high proficiency in the last five years, yet it was first founded in 1909 and 1910 under the able leadership of Miss Evelyn Roberts. The Boys' and Girls' Glee Club was organized and consisted of eighteen members who met and practiced at the homes of their friends.

The orchestra, under the direction of Miss Roberts, aided by Mr. Stillman, was not organized until 1911. The first orchestra, consisting of five members, made its debut at the opening of the new South School Building in 1912. In the year 1913, the orchestra consisted of eleven members, one of the principal members being Mr. Paul Warner, who played first cornet.

During the years from 1914 until 1920, the orchestra and glee clubs made much progress, and they played and sang at most of the school functions, including the annual Junior-Senior Reception. The members of the glee clubs entertained their public with selections from "The Skylark" and "Hiawatha."

The success of the music department during the years from 1920 until 1922 was due to the leadership of Miss Ketz.

In 1922, Mr. N. D. Messinger took charge of the music department and organized a small band consisting of fifteen pieces. Some of the familiar pieces played by the new band were "Greenville Will Shine Tonight," "There Will Be a Hot Time Tonight," and "We're Out to Win." The orchestra and glee clubs were also reorganized by Mr. Messinger, and they made great progress in exciting the musical interests of the students of Greenville High School.

In 1925 the band purchased its first uniforms, which made it possible for them to play at the basketball and the football games and also to take part in the dedication of Harmon's Field. In the same year the Boy's and Girls Glee Clubs presented "The Spanish Opera" and "Toreadors."

Mr. Floyd Thomas directed the music department in 1926. The band made a very successful broadcasting trip to Station W. L. W., Cincinnati.

In 1928 the orchestra was under the instructorship of Mr. Thomas, and the band was under the direction of Mr. Dwight Brown. The reorganized band consisted of forty members, which was the largest band organized in G. H. S. up until 1928.

In 1929 the orchestra and band were both under the supervision of Mr. Brown. The vocal department was under the leadership of Miss Illah Clark.

Miss Elizabeth Hill took charge of the vocal department in 1930, and since that time renewed interests have been aroused in vocal music in both the boys and the girls.

Mr. Brown, during the past seven years, has had unusual success with the band, and through his efforts, Greenville High School's band has taken part in a series of Band Festivals. The first Band Festival was held in 1930 in Van Wert, the second in 1932 in Celina, the third in 1933 in Greenville, the fourth in 1934, in Piqua, and the 1935 Band Festival is to be held in Troy.

CLUB REVIEW

Club life in Greenville High School has made a drastic change in the past twenty-five years. It is the purpose of this article to review the most interesting clubs, their purpose, foundation, and activities over this span of years.

The first two clubs formed in Greenville High School were the Girls' Glee Club in 1909 and the Boys' Glee Club in 1910. Both clubs were extinct until 1932, when they were revived by Miss Hill. At present both clubs are well organized with the Glee Clubs making numerous appearances for school activities.

The third club formed in Greenville High School was the German Club in 1914. This club was formed under the sponsorship of Mr. Roehm, the commencement speaker of 1935. The name of the club was "Schiller Verein." After America's entry into the World War, this club ceased to function until Mr. Detling reorganized it this year.

The "Sibylline" Club was formed in 1916 for the people who took 2nd, 3rd, and 4th year Latin. The club was founded in 1916 and has continued to function. This club, under the leadership of Miss Lindsey, attained in 1931 a membership of over 200 members. In 1931, the Latin Club presented a trophy to be awarded each year to the member of the senior class who has held the highest grade average for four years.

In the fall of 1916 the "Story Tellers Club" was formed. The purpose of this club was to read stories of the best authors and repeat them to the club.

The Spanish Club or "Soeiedad Castellana" was formed in 1917 with two well known Greenville people, Mary Lucas and Jesse Brumbaugh as co-presidents. This club is one of the oldest clubs in high school and under the sponsorship of Mr. Ottman is one of the most active.

The year 1921 marked the founding of the first Art Club under the sponsorship of Anna Bier, with Martin Wogoman as the first president.

The Home Economics Club was founded in 1921 for the purpose of increasing interest in culinary arts.

"Le Circle Francis" or French Club was organized in 1932 with Miss Lindsey as sponsor. In this same year, the Latin Club presented the "Follies of 59 B. C."

The Smith-Hughes Agricultural Society was organized in 1926 by all students who were interested in Agriculture work in high schools.

In 1928, three clubs were formed; namely, the Girl Reserve under Miss Brock, the High School Hi-Y Club under Mr. Ottman, and the Archimedes Science Club, which was formed to promote interest in science.

The Woodworkers Club and the Future Farmers were organized in 1931 with Mr. Kriekenberger and Mr. Kludy as sponsors.

In 1932, eight new clubs were formed. The clubs were Radio Club, Pat Rooney Club, Dramatic Club, Camera Club, Girls' Gym Club, Girls' Athletic Association, Reporters' Club, and the Travel Club. Each of these was formed for those interested in various phases of social life.

The year 1933 might be called the "Father of Club Years," because it was in this year that each member of high school was required to become a member of some club. This necessitated the formation of the Cheerleaders Club, Nature Club, Camera Club, Rifle Club, and Stamp Club.

In the years of 1934 and 1935, only three new clubs have been formed, Broadcasting, Music, and Student Round Table Clubs; but at present there are seventeen active clubs in high school, which gives every member of high school an opportunity to choose the club most popular to him.

ATHLETICS

Since athletics play such an important part in our extra-curricular activities, it is one of the most interesting subjects on which to review. In the first annuals of 1911 to 1916, we find pictures of the olden days in the sport field. At that time no coach was hired, but a regular teacher volunteered his services as a faculty supervisor. Harry C. Metzger, now a teacher of physics and democracy, was one of the leaders in promoting athletics for high school boys and girls.

The football of yonder year varies greatly with the football of today. In 1911 all games were played at Cole's field, which was generally partly flooded with water from Greenville Creek. There were no bleachers for the spectators, and, for that matter, very few spectators. The spectators that happened to go to the game spent their time on the field right behind their team and in case a player did get through the opposing team he was almost sure not to get through the opposing crowd with "less than a broken neck." The majority of the players were attired in a pair of what is now golf knickers rather than the regular football uniform. Also prominent in their equipment were noseguards and home-made football shoes with cleats nailed on by the nearest cobbler. Instead of the rapid transportation now provided for the teams, in 1916, when G. H. S. had a game scheduled at Versailles, the team would have to make a two days journey out of it.

Interest in sports was increased in 1922 with the forming of the Greenville High School Athletic Association. This organization when first formed consisted of representatives from each sport, boys' and girls' coaches, principal, superintendent, and athletic director. This organization guides the policies of all teams representing Greenville High School. Since then the board has been decreased to the two boys' coaches, principal, senior girl representative, senior boy representative, junior boy representative, and athletic director. The 1935 Board of Control is as follows: Mr. Warner, Principal, Mr. Stoltz, Coach, Mr. Salzman, Coach, Mr. Palmer, Athletic Director, Joan Manix, Secretary-Senior Girl, Robert Krick, Senior Boy, Tom Barry, Junior Boy.

Before 1922 "G's" were awarded only in basketball and football, but in 1922 the board authorized the awarding of "G's" to track and baseball. The baseball team remained in existence for a short period of time and then disbanded to be reorganized last with Mr. Detling as coach.

Since the coaches play such an important part in directing the athletics, we have listed below the coaches in high school since it entered athletics.

Twenty-five years ago, Mr. Wright was coach of baseball and football. He was not hired for the purpose of coaching, but he was merely a teacher who did the work voluntarily.

In those days, football players wore anything they could find. They didn't know what it meant to wear head-gears or pads. If a player got loose for a long run, his interference was formed by a huge crowd following him. West Milton was a bitter enemy of G. H. S. twenty-five years ago.

In the year of 1912, Farra Seitz received the honor of becoming the football and basketball coach of Greenville High School. The basketball team in 1912 consisted of a bunch of huskies who wore suits that reached their knees.

In 1913 Mr. Howett, a former University of Michigan athlete, became coach of basketball and baseball. Times were changing, and once in a while one would see a player wearing pads. Mr. Harry Metzger coached the 1913-1914 football and track teams, and he also helped develop the teams of 1915, 1916, 1917, and 1918. The 1914 football team beat Piqua twice. Three cheers for this team!

In 1915 track, which is now one of the foremost sports in G. H. S., started to take its place with the other school interests. Mr. Tweedham helped Mr. Metzger develop the teams in 1915. Mr. Roger helped in 1916, and Mr. Beam in 1917.

When the class of 1918 received their diplomas, Greenville lost one of its greatest athletes, Cloy "Cap" Clemens. This year also saw Greenville's bitterest enemy, West Milton, on the short end of a 75-15 basketball score. Mr. Wheeler helped to develop the football, basketball, and baseball teams in 1918-1919.

In 1920 Mr. Drake became coach of football and basketball. In this same year Greenville beat Miamisburg with a football score of 7-0, and in 1921 with a score of 55-0.

In 1922 Mr. Peden became coach. The school officials changed in 1923, when Mr. Franklin became coach of basketball, baseball, and football.

The 1924 football team went to Celina and beat the "Carps" with a score of 68-0.

In 1925 Mr. Franklin became coach, and in 1926 the teams were entirely under his direction.

In 1927-1928 Mr. Ness became coach. In 1927 Mr. Salzman became track coach.

In 1929 Mr. Stoltz became coach of football and basketball. Incidentally, Mr. Stoltz has remained in Greenville High School longer than any other coach, and is still holding the position in that capacity.

The school year of 1931-1932 was one of the best in the history of G. H. S. In this season the following trophies were won:

- (a) The Miami Valley League Basketball Championship
- (b) The Miami Valley League Football Co-Championship.
- (c) The Miami Valley League Track Championship.

The track teams, under the direction of Mr. Salzman, won the Miami Valley League Championships in the years of 1928-29-30-31-32-33.

The girls should receive mention in the sport world, because it is really the girls' basketball team that put Greenville on the sport calendar. Girls' athletics first consisted of playing soccer, but with the employment of Miss Ceres Williams as girls' gym coach, basketball was introduced. For five years our girls' basketball team remained undefeated and for three consecutive years was state champions. Harry Miles, now the judge, was one of the first men in Greenville to take interest in promoting girls' athletics. He used to accompany our team on its out of town games, often paying all expenses.

The arrival of Dwight Salzman as boys' gym coach, Miss Clark as girls' gym coach, and Ed Stoltz as football and basketball coach formed what might be called a new deal in athletics. Mr. Salzman as track coach has won the Miami Valley title for five consecutive years; Mr. Stoltz has turned out championship basketball and football teams, and Miss Clark has promoted interest in athletics through the Girls' Athletic Association. The purpose of this organization is to award so many points an hour for participation in sports. The girls who earn 900 points receive their numerals and those who earn 1800 points receive their letters. The banner year in sports for Greenville was in 1931 with the winning of the following awards in the Miami Valley League:

- 1. Co-Champions Football
- 2. Champions Basketball
- 3. Champions Track
- 4. Dayton Daily News Trophy for outstanding school in Miami Valley.
- 5. Hi-Y Trophy for champions in football.
- 6. Hi-Y Trophy for champions in basketball.

In a survey made this year, it was found that Greenville had won more championships than any other team in the Miami Valley League, since its forming with Sidney in second place. This is a record of which all students in Greenville High can be proud and it is the purpose of our coaches to keep this record for our school.

GLANCES AT THE OUTSIDE

"And this is our show room—if that's what you want to call it," explained the Senior as he showed me through the portals of Greenville High School.

"This is the trophy case," he said as he pointed at a case filled with shining cups and platters.

We looked at the prized trophies for awhile, then I wondered over to the case which stood between the doors. On a velvet background lay many books with variously colored backs. Of course, I asked what they were, and the proud Senior replied that they were the year books which the high school had been putting out yearly for 25 years. Proudly he pointed them out one by one.

The first book was made by the class of '11." It was a pretty book with a purple cover. A double band of gold framed the monogram of G. H. S. in the upper right hand corner, the letters A-N-N-U-A-L diagonally across the center and the numbers 1911 in the lower left hand corner, all of which were white. The cover was flexible and measured 10¾ by 8 inches. I started to look through the book, but my guide said that if I started looking through them, I would be there all night; so I hurriedly laid the book aside.

The next book handed to me was cream colored. Its only decoration was a maroon seal with maroon letters T-H-E C-H-I-E-F above it. The effect was very beautiful and I silently praised the class of 1912 for this beautiful book.

The 1913 annual cover was of gray paper (and decorated with a picture which appeared to be a blockprint) and was designed by Katherine Klingner.

I was given another purple book, but it was considerably different from the first. Its shape was different and it was wider than it was high (if you get what I mean). The only decoration was a gold seal and a gold cord at the side. I was told that this book was put out in 1914, the year that Mr. Warner, principal of G. H. S., graduated. (The secret's out, Mr. Warner.)

I was in sort of a hurry; so we rapidly glanced over the rest of the year books.

The book put out in 1915 was red and had only a red seal edged in black for decoration.

No record of 1916's annual.

In 1917, the year book was gray with a red tie and a red seal with an interesting design on each side of it.

In one corner of the case lay a bright yellow annual with a black tie and seal. This seal was also worked into a design on which it said "The Chief."

The 1919 class put out the only white book in the group. It was decorated with a purple cord and a gold seal.

1921's class put out a very novel book. It was a brown cover tied with gray cord. The only decoration was a gray seal. This was the first book to have a flyleaf. For their flyleaf, they picked gray paper.

The next annual I picked up was considerably thicker than any so far. The cover was red; a gold seal decorated the front. It was set off with a brilliant red tie at the side and a flyleaf of the same paper as the cover. I started to leaf through it, and right in the front was a picture of an Indian. Under the picture was printed "This picture was designed, engraved, printed by hand in the Art Department of G. H. S." Congratulations, Class of 1922, that was a very interesting annual which you put out.

The book of 1923 was blue with sort of a gold wash over it. It was tied with gray cord, had a gray seal and flyleaf.

The first stiff-back year book was put out in 1924. It had a blue back and gold seal. The flyleaf was the same as the cover. (By the way there are only three books out of the twenty-five with stiff backs. They are 1924, 1928, and 1935.

The next book was gray with a gray cord and a gold seal. It was put out in 1925.

The class of 1926 also picked gray for their cover, and tied it with gray cord. A seal of silver was on the front and the flyleaf was the same as the outside cover.

A heavy paper of brown and tan mixed made up the cover for the 1927 "Chief." On the front was a brown design of an Indian made by Bob Hughs. The flyleaf was also designed by Bob Hughs.

The second stiff back "Chief" comes in 1928. It was brown with a gold seal and the numbers "1928" in gold. The flyleaf for this number was made by Bud Browne.

The 1929 class carried out their color scheme in their class colors, black and orange. The cover was black and was broken by an orange seal. Its interesting black and orange flyleaf was designed by Cletus Alexander.

In 1930, the seniors decided to be different and put out an annual which was smaller in size than those put out before them. It was dark blue with a blue and gold seal in the center. The yellow and blue flyleaf was designed by Bud Browne.

Because the school colors are green and white, it seems rather strange that the first green annual was not put out until 1931. In the upper left corner was a picture of the Memorial Hall in Silver.

The next year, the staff decided that the green cover looked pretty good; so they too bound their book with green, and in the middle of the front cover they put a silver seal. That year the flyleaf was an airplane view of Greenville and it proved interesting. (Several of the students thought it was the picture of Columbus; because they saw the school building, and they thought it was the Penitentiary.)

In 1933 the annual was green, a different texture, and in the lower right hand corner was the picture of the Memorial Hall (the same as the year 1931). This year's flyleaf was made up of contributions from Bob Rentz, Deo Bard, Dan Kagey, Donna Linder, Ellen Dohme, Rolland Richards, Dorothy Suter, Don Baker, Joe Vance, and Garrison King.

The annual staff of 1934 decided again to be different; so they made their year book just a bit smaller than previous years. The cover was brown with sort of monks cloth finish and a plain brown seal. This year the flyleaf was made by Rolland Richards.

The guide then closed the case, and smiling, he turned to me as he said, "Those are the first twenty-four year books put out by the classes of G. H. S. They were all put out by annual staffs under the able direction of Miss Anna Bier. I think that any person who can get ideas for twenty-four annuals and make everyone of them entirely different is nothing short of a genius. (Congratulations, Miss Bier.)"

"But just wait until that twenty-fifth year book goes into the case."

I could tell the way he said that, that he was on the annual staff and helping with the work of that twenty-fifth annual.

SOCIAL LIFE

In order to give the students of Greenville High School an idea of the social life of the former pupils of Greenville High School, we quote from the following social notes taken from the annuals of the preceding twenty-four years. From the 1911 annual the following item was taken:

"The members of the class of twelve celebrated Hallowe'en by a masquerade held at the home of Brother Mong. All was proceeding nicely. Mirrors and candles were everywhere. Some of the rooms were conveniently darkened for the game of "Post Office," and an argument followed about who should be postmaster. "Hide the Thimble" and "Button, Button, Who's Got the Button" were in full force, when hark! stealthy steps were heard at front and back. The ghosts were at work performing their annual duties. A barrel of apples sat temptingly on the back porch. They had not yet arrived at the "bobbing" stage, and, alas! they never did; for those stately ghosts devoured them all. While lamenting this sad loss, bumpity, bump! A terrible commotion arose in front. In vain they pulled and tugged at the door; in vain they tried the windows, but they were locked. Finally they got out through a rear window in time to see the ghosts disappear, a buggy borrowed for the occasion from a neighboring blacksmith shop. So ended the first Junior Party."

The following social news was found in the 1912 annual:

"The first picnic of the season was held at the Pumping Station on Friday afternoon, April 28, by a number of G. H. S. students commonly called the "Bunch," armed with fishing poles and fortified by a great lunch basket. It looked as if they really intended to fish. The fish caught were marvelous in size. That is, marvelously small, for it would take at least a dozen to satisfy one person. At a little after five, that "empty feeling" seemed to prevail, and the lunch baskets were suddenly in great demand, and speedily were their contents disposed of. Only one fishworm was left, and Gertrude Winters failed to swallow it, even after "Granny Marshall" slapped it into his mouth. Unfortunately, there was no moon, and as the sun disappeared, the mist arose from the river, (?) and the air grew chilly. The party ended at the moving picture show."

One of the social events took place in 1913 is as follows:

"A bunch of girls accompanied by Miss Byers and Miss Combs enjoyed a camp-fire "feed" at the pumping station. A supper of bacon and eggs was prepared with only such mishaps as the loss of the salt and the solder melting off the bucket in which they were making coffee. Such thrilling ghost stories were related that the girls made their way homeward, almost afraid to look over their shoulders at the moon, which spread a spooky light over the landscape."

Perhaps some of the students may be interested in the following item taken from the Annual of 1914:

"Mr. Paul Warner very pleasantly entertained the Senior Class, accompanied by the Misses Byers and Osborne at his home in the country on the evening of November 19. A very interesting program had been arranged, the main feature of which was amateur dramatics. We are, indeed, grateful to the impersonator, Mr. Browder, for having given us a chance to "see ourselves as others see us." Dainty refreshments were served and a general good time was enjoyed until a late hour."

The 1915 annual disclosed several interesting social events such as follows:

"January 27—The Sophomores in two "bobs" drove to the home of Fern Rhodes. A little excitement arose when one of the "bobs" went to the ditch on the way. Mrs. Balthaser and Mrs. Davenport chaperoned the party.

"January 30—The social event which the class of Fourteen will remember the longest was the big picnic by the class of Fifteen. When Fifteen found that they could not give Fourteen a reception, they entered wholeheartedly into a new way of entertaining the departing class. "Overlook" was chosen as the desired place and eats in abundance were prepared the day before. At Covington a car was chartered which took them all to "Overlook."

The 1916 annual disclosed the following item:

"One very cold night when the snow was blowing fiercely and all upperclassmen were in their warm homes, the supposedly timid Freshmen surprised us all by venturing out for a party to the home of Mr. Warner, where refreshments were served in abundance."

The freshmen and sophomores will be perhaps interested in the following item found in the 1917 annual:

"The Freshman and Sophomore Classes held a star gazing party and marsh-mallow toast at the Pumping Station on April 16. The evening was made very enjoyable to the girls by the presence of the "masculine element."

The 1918 annual did not contain social notes, but from other sources of information it was learned that the social activities were limited to two parties, one at Hallowe'en time, the other in honor of Washington's Birthday.

The Annual of 1919 disclosed this news:

"The Hallowe'en party was held in the gymnasium, and we had a fine time. The decorations and refreshments were in keeping with the occasion, and helped to make the party as success."

The fact that Hallowe'en parties were in vogue is shown by the fact that a yearly Hallowe'en Party was given.

The social note concerning the Hallowe'en party which was given in 1920 is as follows:

"On Friday evening, October 28, the Class Party was held at the South School Building. As it was a Hallowe'en Party, the various rooms and halls were decorated to represent the occasion; a large number was present, dressed in all kinds of costumes. The evening was spent in playing games and telling ghost stories after which refreshments were served. Everybody departed having had a splendid time."

This item found in the 1921 annual explains the types of usual entertainment:

"The Junior Class has always been noted for its good times; each year we have had a Hallowe'en Party; a celebration of some kind on George Washington's birthday to freshen us after the rapid fire of examinations, and then a nice picnic in the spring as a kind of "olive oil" to smooth over any hard feelings which may have arisen as the outcome of the "finale." So far this year, we have had a Hallowe'en and also a Washington's Birthday Party at the North Building, the very environment of which seems to be conducive to a general good time."

The fact that the freshmen always enjoy themselves is verified by this item quoted from the 1922 annual:

"Last spring the Freshman Class ended gloriously with a picnic at Overlook Park, West Milton. Several machine loads went to the picnic and many did not get back until late that night."

The leading social event which was found in the 1923 annual is as follows:

"The social event of the year was a Christmas Party December 14, 1922. The party was a great success due to the efficiency of the program and eats committee under the direction of Miss Bier and Miss Patrick, who also prepared and served an elaborate chicken supper. The party will long be remembered by the members as one of the most enjoyable events of their school life."

The most interesting social event found in the 1924 annual concerned the Art Club. It is as follows:

"The chief social event of the year was a Rabbit-Christmas party given by the Art Club. Refreshments, which consisted of a splendid rabbit dinner, were prepared in the Home Economics Department under the supervision of the Eats Committee and their able chairman, William Rush. The room was decorated with hundreds of rabbit tails and left hind feet. Games were played and prizes were given for the best "Marble" rabbit statues carved from soap."

The change in the type of entertainment is shown in this item concerning the Junior-Senior Reception taken from the "Chief" of 1926:

"As a fitting flourish for our Junior year, we had a reception of which you'll soon hear. There was a fine party in Memorial Hall; everyone was there—Juniors, Seniors, and all. This always had been a sedate affair, but for once it was frivolous; some were shocked who were there. They played with balloons and Miss Lindsey was dismayed, while John Vance as toastmaster his ability displayed. The Seniors were hungry; we ran out of eats. We showed every one an excellent time, and no Senior spent as much as a dime. And being under the faculty's power, we left at a very respectable hour."

Quite a few parties were enjoyed in the year 1929. The sophomores were responsible for a majority of the fun. A masked Hallowe'en Party was held and a Valentine party which proved to be a great success were enjoyed through the efforts of this class.

The Annuals of 1930 and 1931 did not contain items of the social nature, but glancing through the annual, we found pictures of the annual Junior-Senior Reception. The expressions on the faces of the dancers tell that the party must have been a huge successes. Also there were numerous class parties besides the club banquets and numerous other events.

The Art Club is one of the oldest clubs in the school. Its members are art students and those who are interested in art.

The purpose of the club is to encourage those people interested in creative work, to gain appreciation for art objects, and to promote social life among its members.

The activities this year were parties, business meetings, and the sponsoring of an exhibit of oil paintings.

The Dramatic Club was organized in 1931 for the purpose of studying and producing plays. This year it boasts of sixty-eight members.

Each year the club gives a Christmas pageant for the entire student body. This year the production, which was entitled "O Worship the King," was also presented before the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The Dramatic Club has had seven meetings, one at which a miscellaneous program was given; one with an outside speaker; and five meetings at which plays have been presented for the pleasure of the members.

Late in April the members of the Dramatic Club spent an enjoyable evening at the organization's annual banquet.

The Girl's Athletic Association was organized in G. H. S. five years ago for the purpose of promoting interest in all sports and developing a spirit of good sportsmanship. Before this time it was commonly known as "The Girls' "G" Association." When the association was re-organized, a constitution was drawn up; this same constitution is in use now and it may be changed by the addition or repeal of amendments by two-thirds of the association. Any senior high school girl having a total of 200 points is eligible to belong. The girls are all privileged to earn numerals and "G's".

The association carries on many enterprises and social functions. During the foot-ball season, the girls sponsor a stand at Harmon Field on the nights of home games. The funds taken in from these sales are used in many ways. The G. A. A. sponsors a Play Day each year and also gives a banquet at the end of the school year. Last year the association helped purchase a new piano for the gymnasium; it also sponsored a "Kid Party" held in the latter part of March.

Freshmen Girl Reserve

MARY ALICE SLONAKER, President      FON RIDINGS, Vice-President

The Girl Reserve organization was established in 1929. The purpose of the club is to promote world fellowship, to encourage social welfare work, and to place religion and Girl Reserve principles above all other phases in the life of the Christian girl. The past year has been a great success and has been beneficial to all Girl Reserves. The girls gave a banquet and a chapel program, but the most outstanding social event for this club was the Girl Reserve Carnival-Dance.

MUSIC CLUB

ROBERT SNELL, President

MARY ALICE HAWLEY, Vice-President

HELEN STEPHENS, Secretary and Treasurer

PEGGY ELLER, Reporter

DWIGHT L. BROWN, Sponsor

The Music Club was organized in 1935 for the purpose of bringing together and promoting the interest of all students interested in music.

At every meeting some member, or members, of the club puts on a program. These programs are made up of songs, duets, instrumental solos, and talks on directing, etc.

The meetings have proved to be very successful and the young club is progressing rapidly.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

DRUCILLA GEORGE, President

THELMA LECKLIDER, Vice-President

JULIA MILLER, Secretary

DOROTHY McCABE, Treasurer

THELMA FOUREMAN, Reporter

WILMA CREAMER, Sponsor

The purpose of the Home Economics Club differs from year to year. This year the Home Economics Club endeavored to:

1. Develop professional spirit and co-operation among its members.
2. Provide opportunities for play, recreation, and social contact.
3. Provide experience in group co-operation without the influence of school discipline and adult supervision.
4. Disseminate the value of home economics to students and to the public by ethical publicity.
5. Establish closer relationship between the home economics courses at school and the home life of the girls.

At the meetings held this year by the Home Economics Club several very interesting talks were given by different members of the club.

JOAN MANIX, MARY MACCI, MARY HAWLEY, JANICE BAUMGARDNER, Aedile

JEAN CORNELL, Quaestor

BILL KNUPP, MARJORY RAHN, Scribes

MARY E. MARSHALL, Sponsor

For quite a number of years, the Latin Club has given to its members the pleasures and benefits of the classics for which there was a limited time in the class room.

So far this year, the meetings have included organization, songs, talks, pantomimes, and games in Latin. Through these features, the members have made the club an interesting and valuable activity.

MODEL AIRPLANE CLUB

BILL KNUPP, President

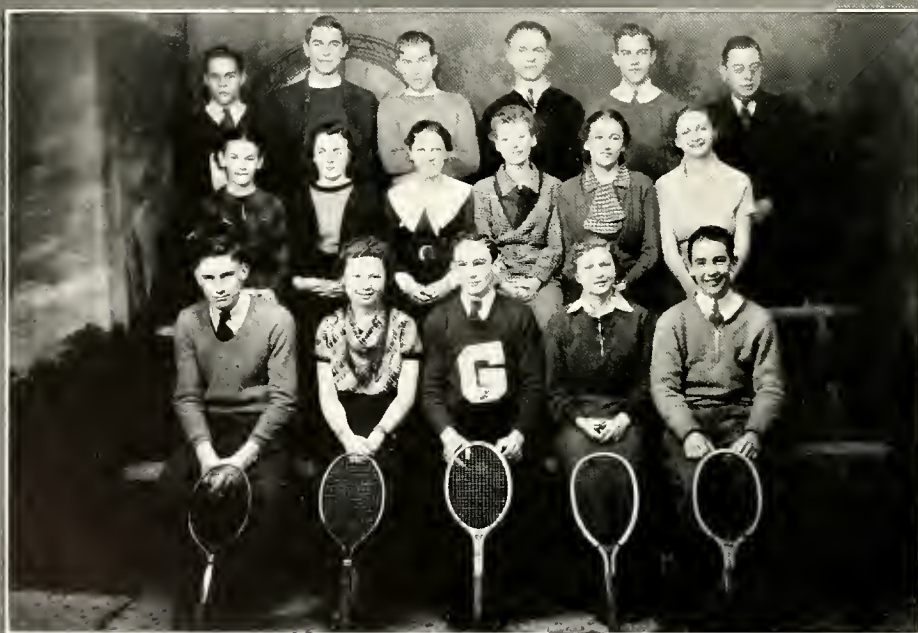

BYRON BROWN, Secretary

JAMES WALLISCHECK, Reporter

WAYNE PALMER, Sponsor

The Model Airplane Club is one of the newly formed organizations. It came into being in the fall of 1934, and its membership consists of some twenty boys who are interested in aviation and the building of model airplanes. During the year, the club held contests in the gymnasiums and awarded prizes to the winning contestants.

REPORTERS' CLUB

DOROTHY BRAMBLE, Editor                      FRANCIS MOTE, Assistant Editor
MARIANNE ALLEN, Club Editor
HELEN REAM, Humor Editor                      PHYLLIS MINNICH, Exchange Editor
VIVIAN NEWPORT, Sponsor
HELEN WARRICK, Sponsor

Although pupils under the direction of Mr. Palmer 1928-1929 and Mr. Phelps 1930-1931 wrote articles published in the Greenville "Advocate," the Reporter's Club was not organized until September, 1932.

In order that the citizens may know more about the school the members of the Reporters' Club write articles which are published once each week in the Greenville Advocate. Thus the members of this club not only serve their school but also have an opportunity to learn something about news and feature writing.

This year, in addition to their regular meetings, the club had a banquet and a chapel program at which "G's" in journalism were awarded to those who have had published articles amounting to 175 inches.

TENNIS CLUB

TOM MAHER, President                      PHYLLIS MINNICH, Secretary
MARJORIE RAHN, Reporter
WAYNE PALMER, Sponsor

The Tennis Club was formed early in 1935 by a group of boys and girls who are intensely interested in tennis. The object of the club is to create more interest in tennis and to elevate it to its proper place in the sports of our school.

In the spring of the year, both indoor and outdoor tournaments in singles and doubles were held.

SPANISH CLUB

MAURICE GORDON, President

LOWELL HAMILTON, Vice-President

ELOISE SAYLOR, Secretary

WILMA McCABE, Treasurer

VIRGINIA MACCI, Reporter

O. O. OTTMAN, Sponsor

The Sociedad Castellana had its annual party in February. This social function was very "Spanish," exotic dishes of Spanish-speaking countries being served, and native songs of these nations sung by the participants. The program was varied by popular songs by the guitar duo, Maurice Gordon and Clarence Young, and by dancing and prize contestants.

The Sociedad Castellana was organized in 1918 and has been in continuous operation since that year. Its purposes are to study the life, literature, and songs of the countries of the Spanish language, and to furnish a social medium for the students of Spanish.

One of its cherished traditions is "Once a member, always a member." Its alumni are welcome to all its meetings and social affairs.

STUDENT ROUND TABLE

MR. WARNER, Sponsor

MR. PALMER, Sponsor

The Student Round Table, organized in the fall of 1934, originally consisted of the five cheerleaders, who selected two additional members from each class, who, in turn, selected one member from each club.

This organization was founded with the intention of improving the spirit of Greenville High School. At the meetings numerous ways of bettering our school were discussed. During the year, its members have presented several novel pep-meetings. The chief activity of the group was to get under way a campus landscaping project which will materialize in the near future.

MODERN HISTORY CLUB

MARTHA MANNIX, President

KATHLEEN KAGEY, Vice-President

DELORIS KARN, Secretary

MARY JANE GORDON, Treasurer

BETTE STOCKER, Reporter

OLA BROCK, Sponsor

The Modern History Club was organized October 4, 1933, with Miss Brock as sponsor.

The purpose of the club is to discuss modern affairs and events. During the year, debates, plays, readings, and pantomimes have been presented. Following the discussion is the social part of the program. Vocal music, instrumental music, plays, poems, and other selections have been presented for the latter part of the social meeting.

HUMOUR SECTION

INTRODUCTION

Do not read this.....“Where ignorance is bliss, ’tis folly to be wise.”..... Because we feel that it cannot possibly serve any good end; because it represents a pile of otherwise good money; because it gives the editor and her assistant something to do; because of a dozen or more imbecilic reasons, this section is herewith foisted on an unconscious public.

M. A. Allen: How did you ever happen to take that poison? Didn't you read the sign? It said "Poison."

"Jitz" Baumgardner: Yes, but I didn't believe it.

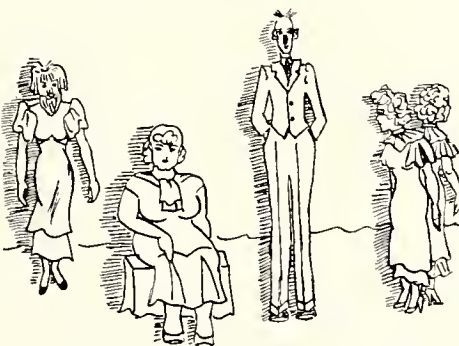

Allen: Why?

"Jitz": Because right beneath it was a sign which said, "Lye."

Babs Bramble: Did you know my sister has three other boy friends?

B. Krick: Good heavens, no!

B. Bramble: I didn't either but she gave me 35c to tell you.

The Girl Reserves Sponsor A Carnival

Boomer S: You didn't expect to see me tonight, did you?

Dan Hawley: Naw, Mary Alice didn't put your picture out till the doorbell

Lucille Gorsueh entered a crowded room with a pair of skates over her arm. To the elderly gentleman who offered her his seat, she said,

"Thank you so much, but I've been skating all afternoon and I'm tired of sitting down."

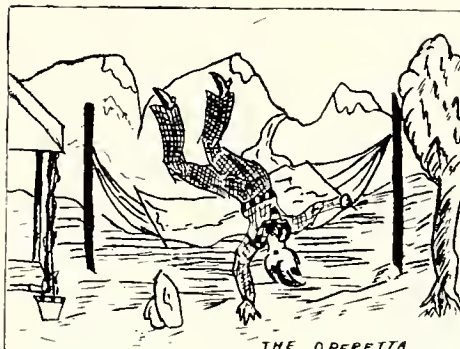

Francis Mote: I like to hear Mr. Palmer lecture on chemistry. He brings things home to me that I have never seen before.

Harold Arnett: So does the Home Steam Laundry.

Winterrowd: Have you ever been to the zoo?

Sink: No.

Winterrowd: Well, you ought to. You'd enjoy seeing the turtles whizz past.

A. M. Keever: Ma, if the baby was to eat tadpoles, would it give her a big bass voice like a frog?

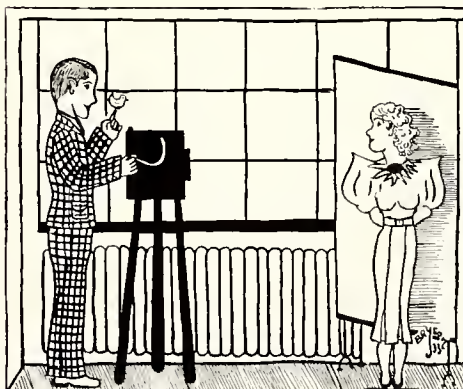

Mother K: Good gracious, no! They'd kill her.

Anna Marie: Well, they didn't.

"It's the little things in life that tell," said Eileen Brown as she yanked her kid sister from under the sofa.

Bob Eller: So you gave Allread the gate and got another girl friend?

Hip King: Yeah, it's Izzy come, Izzy go.

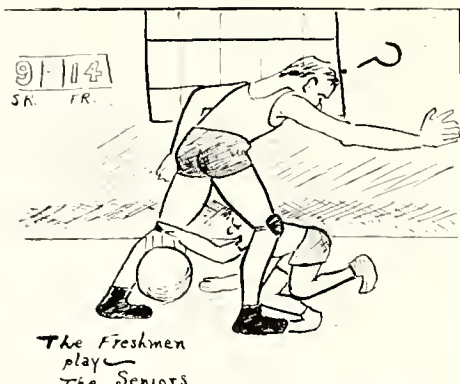

A. Warner: Is Don Stutzman a good chemistry student?

L. E. Fry: I'll say he is! He's got the acids eating right out of his hand.

Bob Birt: I suppose a lot of women will be made miserable when I marry.

Ted Williams: Why? How many women are you going to marry?

Clarence Plessinger, Boy Scout: May I accompany you across the street, madam?

Old Lady: Certainly, sonny. How long have you been waiting here for someone to take you across?

C. Orrison, in hardware store: I'd like a wrench.

Salesman: A monkey?

Orrison: No, I think Amos wants the big baboon size.

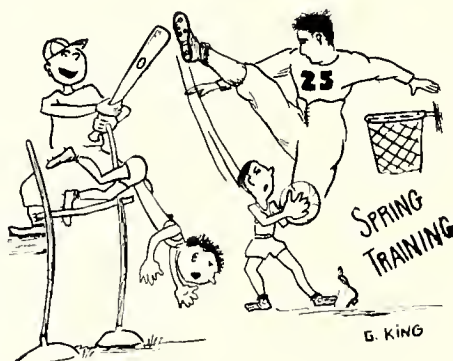

Mr. Dohme: I'll teach you to make love to my daughter, my little Ellen.

Bud Nealeigh: I wish you would; I'm not making much headway.

Roy Lewis: Who's there?

Burglar: Lie still and keep quiet. I'm looking for money.

Alabam: Wait! I'll get up and look with you.

MEETING ADJOURNED

"Master Chairman," quoth the flea on Robinson Crusoe's back, "I move we adjourn to Friday."

Druggist. Here's your package.
Just 75c.

Bernice McEowen, not understanding:
Thank you. There is your nickel.

Druggist: But I said 75c.

Bernice, at door: Well, there's your 5c.

Druggist: Well, go on, sleepy. I made 3c anyway.

Guide: This is Bunker Hill Monument—where Warren fell, you know.

Peg Eller, surveying the lofty shaft thoughtfully: Nasty fall! Killed him of course.

Mary F. Rush says:

Girls certainly do regret losing their youth—unless they can pick up another one immediately.

Mrs. Manix: Darling, you were awfully late last night. I'm afraid I'm dreadfully old-fashioned, but I do like to know where you go.

Joan: Certainly, mummy, I dined with—oh, well, you don't know him, and we went to several places I don't suppose you've been to, and finished at a queer little club—I forget its name, but it's somewhere in a little town—I don't know where. It's all right, isn't it, mummy?

Mrs. Manix: Of course, darling. It's only that I just like to know.

"Marvin," said Rev. Thomas severely, "you shouldn't talk like that to Don. Have you ever thought of heaping coals of fire on his head?"

"No, I haven't," said the older McClain, "but it's a great idea."

Here's the latest one about the absent minded professor—He rolled under the dresser and waited for his collar button to find him.

"You can't stop here!" yelled the traffic cop to Arnett stalled at a street crossing.
"You don't know this car," answered Harold with a sad smile.

Miss Warriek: Write a 250 word composition.

(Next morn) Bob James: My uncle was driving his new car one day and he had a puncture. The other two hundred thirty-six words are not fit for publication.

Motto of a modern high school girl:
Every man for herself.

Early to rise and ditto to bed
Makes a man healthy, but socially dead.

"Tell me how long girls should be loved?"—Squirt Cruze

"The same as short ones," says
"Wheezer" Kline.

Lowell Hamilton quotes:

A Sultan at odds with his harem
Thought of a way he could scarem.
He caught him a mouse
Which he freed in the house:
Thus starting the first Harem Scarem.

Lowell Rudy (waiting for her to come downstairs): Is Francis your oldest sister?

Maxine Reck: Yep.

Rudy: And who comes after her?

Maxie: You and two other guys.

Miss Newport: Please tell me what it is when I say, "I love, you love, he loves?"

Bob Snell: That's one of them triangles when somebody gets shot.

Bill Benkert: Do you want me to tell you all about heaven?

Mary Macci: No, I want it to be a surprise.

Tom Maher: What is your worst sin?

"Sissy" Goeke: My vanity—I spend hours before the mirror admiring my beauty.

Tom: That isn't vanity—that's imagination.

Mr. Metzger: If I have talked too long, it is because I haven't my watch with me, and there isn't a clock in this room.

"Fat Metzger: There's a calendar behind me.

Martha Smith: Joe Vance has a good education, hasn't he?

Evelyn Knuehl: Sure, he can say "Hi, toots" in nine languages.

"Gerry" Kipp: Do you believe if a dog howls outside your house at night that it means there is going to be a death?

Herb Meyers: Yeah, the death of the dog if he doesn't quit.

Garrison King, the artist (having shown a blank canvas): I call that picture "The Drunk."

"Jazzy" Johnson: Where's the drunk?

Garry: Oh, he passed out of the picture.

Judge: So you tried to drive by the officer after he blew his whistle?

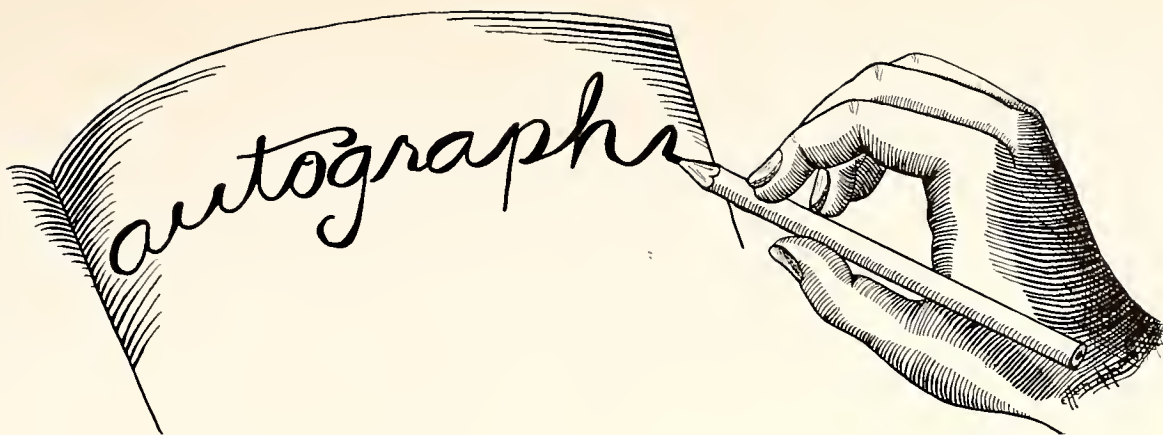

Joe Kincaid: Your honor, I'm deaf.

Judge: That may be, but you'll get your hearing in the morning.

Chalmer Labig: What did Juliet say to Romeo when she saw him in the balcony?

Crystal Myers: Why in the didn't you get seats in the orchestra?
